RUSSELL GANIM

ASSOCIATE PROVOST AND DEAN OF INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

“RESPONSE AND RECONNECTION: GLOBAL EDUCATION DURING AND AFTER COVID-19”

PRESENTATION

Provost Ganim will be presenting about the International Impact of Covid-19 on the U of I International community, the importance of supporting our International members and ideas for collaboration.

BACKGROUND

Russell Ganim is associate provost and dean of International Programs (IP) and a professor of French in the UI’s College of Liberal Arts & Sciences (CLAS). He served as chair of the CLAS Faculty Assembly and more recently as president of the UI Faculty Senate. He sees his role as one of enhancing collaboration between faculty, staff, students, and senior administration across the University for the benefit of the institution. A chief goal in building such relationships is to create global opportunities for the campus community.

Provost Ganim’s primary interests are to expand the UI’s presence in Africa and Latin America while increasing the role of faculty in shaping the direction of IP. He also intends to highlight the contributions of international scholars and students to the UI community.
